Subject: Trip to Lymington

People:

Rahel, Joseph and Clifford.

Notes:

We went camping at twice in the New Forest, both times at Chapelfield, an impromptu campsite on Godshill near Fordingbridge. In 2010 Joseph met Joe Fenny and they got on like a house on fire but then when we got back Joseph rebutted Joe's attempts to maintain the friendship and wouldn't even spend time with him on Club Penguin. My attempts to help came to nought. Assuming the dates are correct this is the second trip and I'm pretty sure we didn't meet up with the Fenny's again.

Rahel did her best to make the trip to Lymington absolutely miserable but you'd never guess it to the photographs.

Joseph and I built a splendid sandcastle, which if memory serves me Joseph destroyed before we left.

I'm a bit puzzled by the train. I think we maybe travelled from Brockenhurst to Lymington on the branch line but according to the net no steam locomotives had travelled that line for years. Maybe we were on a diesel.

I think it must have been the year before when Joseph's mate was staying at Sandy Balls nearby. His Mum and Dad, Marie and Graham, had earlier mooted the possibility of staying there at the same time but then clearly went off the idea for what ever reason and they were careful not to reveal when they were going. We bumped into them Sandy Balls when we went to see what was on offer. They had specifically said they were not going that week and it was excruciating as Rahel could not grasp that they did not want to spend time with us or for the boys to be together. After five or ten minutes chat I managed to steer the team away.
